

Amendments to the Abstract

Please add the following Abstract to this application.

-- The disclosed embodiments relate to a current reduction circuit that reduces offset current from at least one driver circuit. The current reduction circuit comprises circuitry that measures the offset current and produces a measurement current and circuitry that receives the measurement current and responds by maintaining an auto kine bias measurement voltage within a predetermined range. --